Fernlea Flowers celebrates summer as exclusive North American distributor of Rio™ Dipladenia

Easy-care Rios let gardeners relax with less work and more play

Delhi, Ontario, Canada (June 5, 2015) – Fernlea Flowers, one of the largest greenhouse operators in North America, is celebrating summer as the exclusive North American distributor of Rio Dipladenia. While the easy-care tropical plant has been a favourite with garden centres and green thumbs since 2010, Fernlea Flowers is excited to bring Rios to the gardening masses on an exclusive basis.

Originating from Brazil, this hardy plant has seen an increase in the North American market due to its tropical aesthetics and low-maintenance growing attributes. Rios offer flower-lovers the delicate blooms of tropical flora while being hardy enough to withstand a full spectrum of weather conditions, from periods of hot sun and drought to cool temperatures and significant rains.

“Rio has been one of our best selling plants for the past few years. We’re seeing avid gardeners, outdoor decorators and homeowners alike using these plants to spruce up outdoor living spaces and discovering that they’re not only beautiful, but can withstand almost anything our North American climate can throw at it,” said Jeff Howe, President, Fernlea Flowers. “We’re very excited to continue to meet the increasing demand by now offering Rios as one of our greenhouse exclusives.”

Rios come in a range of high-impact colours, including bright red, stunning shades of pink and brilliant white. Rios can be found in select garden centres across Canada and the United States. Plants are available individually potted and ready for planting, as well as in greenhouse prepared hanging baskets, window boxes and tropical planters designed to bring an instant pop of tropical colour to any outdoor space.
